

Situation:

Your grandmother is going to celebrate her 100th birthday in Havana, Cuba, and you are going to throw her a party. You live in Spain. You must plan your trip to see her. You must also plan the party. You will travel with your neighbor (your classmate) who will help throw the party.

You all have to:

- Find and buy two round-trip plane tickets or cruise tickets from Spain to Cuba.
- Find a hotel to stay in.
- Buy all of the food.
- Choose a company to film the party.
- Buy two gifts for your grandmother.
- Buy or rent furniture and decorations.

Considerations:

- The trip will be 1 week (7 days/6 nights)
- You need to plan for 100 people to be at the party
- You may only spend $4000 on the flight/cruise tickets and the party.
- You will have to convert the prices that you see into USD. There are many exchange rate calculators on the Internet to help you achieve that goal.

Plan:

You will decide everything using G-Chat. If you do not have one already, you will need a G-Mail account and to invite your friend so that you may have the chat.
