Portal Handout

You have one to two hours to explore a community with your group for the African influences that you researched.

In order to give you some direction, explore the community using the Ingress app. Your goal is to hack or defend at least five portals. As you interact with the portals, at least one person in your group should take photos of anything that you come across that represents an African influence. Make sure to talk to someone who speaks the target language in the area regarding the examples that you note using the questions that we brainstormed in class. You must take video recordings of these discussions and photos of the different influences and locations that you discover for your work that we will complete when we return to class. Be sure to ask the person you are talking with if it is okay if you record the conversation for your project.

Keep notes of what you see and discuss below:

Name of portal and location	African influence(s) discovered	Notes from the interview
