

Peer feedback Sheet for Introductory Paragraph

Part I: Quick Review

1. Read the introduction.

- Can you identify the thesis statement easily?
(Not at all) 1----- 2----- 3 ----- 4 ----- 5 ----- 6 (Very easily)
- Is the main argument of this paper clear? Please circle one.
(Not at all) 1----- 2----- 3 ----- 4 ----- 5 ----- 6 (Very clear)
- What do you understand the main argument to be?

Part II: More Detailed Review

1. Introduction

- Does the introduction have sufficient background information?
(Not at all) 1----- 2----- 3 ----- 4 ----- 5 ----- 6 (Very sufficient)

What kind of information would be helpful to add? Is there any information that should be omitted?

- Does the background information lead you to the thesis statement (main argument) well?
(Not at all) 1----- 2----- 3 ----- 4 ----- 5 ----- 6 (Very well)

Give at least one suggestion to improve the flow of the paragraph or provide one concrete piece of evidence that shows how the flow was well-achieved.

- Write the thesis statement in your own words based on the other information in the introductory paragraph. Verify your understanding with your partner. Then, rank the clarity (whether your thesis statement clearly has a main argument and elements of the supporting details).

(Not at all) 1----- 2----- 3 ----- 4 ----- 5 ----- 6 (Very clear)
