

Illustrated Journal Template

Illustrated journals are a fun way to document your ideas and thoughts as you learn in the target language. You can include any image (screen shot, clipping, drawing, etc.) and write a reflection related to that image (about what you found challenging or thought-provoking, the grammar or vocabulary you are learning, your cultural understandings, and/or any questions you have). Here's an example of one related to travel:

On the next page, you will find a template to create your own digital illustrated journal. However, don't be constrained by the template! Use your creativity to make yours in the best way possible for you. After all, it's all about your experience as a language learner!
